

GITHUB - Create Your Github Account

The screenshot shows the GitHub homepage. The top navigation bar is dark with the GitHub logo on the left and links for Features, Platform, Business, Explore, and Pricing. A search bar labeled 'Search GitHub' is next to 'Sign in' and 'Sign up' buttons. The 'Sign up' button is highlighted with a red dashed box, and a blue arrow points to it. Below the navigation bar, the main content area has a dark background with the text 'Built for developers' and a description of GitHub. A white sign-up form is centered on the right side of the page. The form has three input fields: 'Username' with the placeholder 'Pick a username', 'Email' with the placeholder 'you@example.com', and 'Password' with the placeholder 'Create a password'. Below the password field is a note: 'Use at least one letter, one numeral, and seven characters.' A green button labeled 'Sign up for GitHub' is at the bottom of the form. Below the button is a disclaimer: 'By clicking "Sign up for GitHub", you agree to our terms of service and privacy statement. We'll occasionally send you account related emails.'

Note:

1. Search for Github in Google and Click on Sign up
2. Please use the same email with which you have registered with us.
3. If you have already have a Github account, you can press Sign in and skip to slide 7

You also should go to your email ID and confirm your email address

The screenshot shows a Gmail interface. At the top, there's a 'Gmail' header with navigation icons and a '1 of 2' indicator. On the left sidebar, there's a 'COMPOSE' button, an 'Inbox (1)' section with links to 'Starred', 'Sent Mail', 'Drafts', and 'More', and a user profile for 'Arjun'. The main email area displays a message from 'GitHub <noreply@github.com>' received at '5:13 PM (9 minutes ago)'. The email body says: 'Hi @Abcd123451! Help us secure your GitHub account by verifying your email address (testab3456@gmail.com). This lets you access all of GitHub's features. Verify email address'. Below this, it provides a link for a broken button: 'Button not working? A footer note states: 'You're receiving this email because you recently created a new GitHub account or added a new email address. If this wasn't you, please ignore this email.' At the bottom, there's a 'Click here to Reply or Forward' link, a storage status '0 GB (0%) of 15 GB used' with a 'Manage' link, and footer links for 'Terms', 'Privacy', and 'Program Policies'. A chat widget at the bottom left shows 'No recent chats' and a 'Start a new one' link.

Your Github account is now setup !!

A screenshot of the GitHub homepage. The top navigation bar is dark with the GitHub logo, a search bar, and links for Pull requests, Issues, Marketplace, and Explore. The main content area has a light blue and green gradient background with the text "Learn Git and GitHub without any code!" and a subtext "Using the Hello World guide, you'll create a repository, start a branch, write comments, and open a pull request." Below this are two buttons: "Read the guide" (green) and "Start a project" (light gray). On the left, there's a notification box about the Terms of Service and Privacy Statement, and a "Repositories" section with a "New repository" button and the message "You don't have any repositories yet!". On the right, there's a "Browse activity" section with the heading "Discover interesting projects and people to populate your personal news feed." and a subtext "Your news feed helps you keep up with recent activity on repositories you watch and people you follow." with an "Explore GitHub" button.

Create Your Repository

Your Github Dashboard

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the GitHub 'join/get-started' page. The browser's address bar displays 'github.com/join/get-started'. The page features a dark header with the GitHub logo, a search bar, and navigation links for 'Pull requests', 'Issues', 'Marketplace', and 'Explore'. The main content area is titled 'What do you want to do first?' and includes a subtext: 'Every developer needs to configure their environment, so let's get your GitHub experience optimized for you.' Below this, there are three interactive cards, each with an illustration, a title, a description, and a button:

- Start a new project: Illustration of a person working on a large lightbulb. Description: 'Start a new repository or bring over an existing repository to keep contributing to it.' Button: 'Create a repository'.
- Collaborate with your team: Illustration of two people working at a desk with laptops. Description: 'Improve the way your team works together and get access to more features with an organization.' Button: 'Create an organization'.
- Learn how to use GitHub: Illustration of a person working on a laptop with a lightbulb above it. Description: 'Get started with an "Introduction to GitHub" course in our Learning Lab.' Button: 'Start Learning'.

The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the search bar, several application icons (including Edge, File Explorer, and various productivity apps), and the system clock indicating 12:31 on 30-07-2020.
